

When and what Information Do We Require?

The Company requires the customer-related information when joins, subscribe to newsletter or fill any application to the Company's website. The Company's website may be visited by anonymous person. However, name, e-mail, address and phone number shall be required, in the event of submitting any request or subscribe to the Company's website.

What do we use your information for?

The Company may use the customer-related information as follows:

- To personalize customer's experience (customer's information help the Company to respond to the customer's individual needs in a better way)
- To improve the Company's website (The Company continually strive to improve its website offerings based on the information and feedback it receives from the customers)
- To improve customer service (customer 's information helps the Company to respond more effectively to the customer's requests and support needs)
- To send e-mails periodically (The email address you provide may be used to send you information, respond to inquiries, and/or other requests or questions.)

How do we protect customer's information?

The Company implements a variety of security measures to maintain the safety of the customer's personal information when you enter, submit, or access his/her personal information.

Does the Company disclose the customer's information to any other parties?

The Company shall not sell, trade, or otherwise transfer any personal information of any customer to third parties , excluding reliable parties, which contribute in operating the Company's website, business, or servicing the customer, providing that those parties keep such information confidential. However, the Company may disclose any of the customer's personal information, whenever necessary, in accordance with the Law, to enhance the Company's policies, or to protect the rights of the Company, other parties, property and safety. However, the Company may provide non-personal information of anonymous visitors to third parties for marketing, advertising, or other uses.

Privacy Policy

Privacy policy shall be applied only on the information to be collected from the Company's website; otherwise, privacy policy shall not be applied.

Terms and Conditions

Please, visit terms and conditions-related section to review the terms of use, disclaimer and liabilities limitation to be applied upon using the Company's website.

Customer's Consent

By using the Company's website, the customer agrees on the Company' privacy policy.